Looking Back

Almost four years ago, Sarah McNany called me following the loss of Steve Sharar, and she asked me to backfill her as MECMOAA's 1st Vice President. As I knew very little about our Chapter or its members, I said I'd have to think about it. Cindie quickly reminded me, "You complain that retired officers don't step up, so you really don't have a choice." Eighteen months later, Sarah and Dave moved to Myrtle Beach, and she again passed the baton to me, this time as President.

Over the last two years, we strived to promote simple camaraderie within MECMOAA—our local "Officers Club," if you will. As I pass the baton to John Rice, my hope is that two years from now, we'll see both new and familiar faces at every gathering, and we'll continue to honor all those who have been a part of our 41 years as the Mountain Empire Chapter.

Member Spotlight

Mary Shaw Van, Maj, USAF (Ret.)

There is very little that happens in MECMOAA today that doesn't involve our Secretary, Mary Shaw Van. In fact, all of our meetings, socials and events depend upon Mary to coordinate the logistics and resolve any issues that arise. She is an indispensable member of the board, and she tirelessly records board and appropriate meeting minutes while fully participating in the discussion—a challenging task, to say the least. The bottom line is that if we're doing something as a Chapter, we probably depend heavily upon Mary to help plan and execute it.

Mary Bailey graduated from Concord College in Athens, WV in 1971, with a B.S. in education. She was an Air Force spouse and civil service worker until 1979 when, newly divorced, she decided to join the Air Force. She attended Officer Training School and after being commissioned, was assigned to Chanute Technical Training Center, in Rantoul, Illinois. (This was a big disappointment as Chanute did not have airplanes, and Mary thought every Air Force Base had planes.) At Chanute, she served as a Training Evaluation Officer (evaluating the content and quality of technical training courses), Squadron Admin Officer, and finally, as the Commander of the Jet Engine Mechanic Student Squadron.

After Chanute, she was assigned to Headquarters, Air Training Command, at Randolph AFB in San Antonio, Texas, where she served as a Training Staff Officer. She was the Headquarters representative for the command's on-the-job (OJT) training programs, and provided training evaluation guidance to the command's technical training centers.

From Randolph, Mary was assigned to Headquarters, Strategic Air Command (SAC), Offutt AFB, in Bellevue, Nebraska where she served as Deputy Chief, Training Division, and later as Chief, Training Division. This division oversaw the allocation of all SAC's TDY-to-school training quotas, SAC's OJT, and retraining programs. At SAC, she was the Personnel representative to "Rivet Workforce," a special task force implemented to develop specialties and training programs to support the new B-1 bomber. She was also SAC's liaison officer to the Air Force Academy.

Leaving SAC, she was assigned to the Air Force Military Personnel Center (AFMPC), Randolph AFB, in San Antonio, Texas. She served as Chief, Pipeline Management System, responsible for establishing requirements for the computer system used to manage the allocation of school training quotas for the Air Force. Later she became an Assignments Officer in the Support Assignments Division where she made assignments for Air Force Education and Training Officers, ROTC Officers, and OTS instructors. .

From AFMPC, Mary was sent to Headquarters, Air Combat Command, Langley AFB, in Hampton, Virginia. She was Chief, of the "Bright Flag" Training Office, whose primary responsibility was to develop requirements for a computer system to track ACC's training requirements for each specialty, particularly OJT requirements. It was at Langley that she met and married Lieutenant Colonel John Shaw Van. John was a Headquarters staff officer in the Operations Directorate, previously a B-52 pilot. He retired in 1994. As a newlywed, Major Shaw Van became number one on the list for an unaccompanied assignment to Korea. After much soul-searching, she took an early retirement in 1995.

After retirement, Mary taught Civics and Economics for five years in Pasquotank County High School in Elizabeth City, North Carolina. She and her husband moved to Piney Flats, Tennessee, in 2006, where they were both happily retired. Mary is not only a military retiree, but a surviving spouse as well.

Mary, thanks for all you have done for our Nation, the Air Force, and MECMOAA!

Legislative Update

Jim DuBose, CW4, USA (Ret.)

Good News: SBP-DIC Offset Begins Soon

Survivors with both SBP and DIC will receive a letter from the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS, the administrator of SBP) in December explaining how the first phase of the offset elimination (2021) will affect them. The letter will provide payment amounts so survivors can see the benefit of the first offset elimination actions starting with their Feb. 1, 2021, payment. The offset elimination phase-out continues in 2022, and the offset ends in 2023.

The bottom line: The DIC offset amount in SBP will decrease, thereby allowing a survivor to collect more of his or her SBP amount. Plus, he or she will continue to receive SSIA.

Bad News: New TRICARE Select Fees

New TRICARE Select enrollment fees take effect in 2021, a first for retirees who joined the military prior to 2018 and their families. These fees do not apply to TRICARE for Life or TRICARE Prime beneficiaries; they only apply to TRICARE Select retiree beneficiaries in Group A (sponsor entered service before Jan. 1, 2018).

It's imperative that we stop the increase and expansion of these fees in future years, or one of our most significant benefits as military retirees will quickly be eroded as Congress looks for funding sources. Almost without fail, Congress "robs Peter to pay Paul."

Veteran Death Certificates and COVID-19

We've seen a trend across the nation with COVID-related deaths and incorrect or incomplete reporting on death certificates. This is especially concerning for our veterans. When a service member passes, it's critical to ensure the death certificate lists all contributing factors, especially those that are service-connected. Correcting a death certificate can be costly, timely, and frustrating for a surviving spouse.

Wreaths Across America

Our Chapter voted to continue our annual donation to Wreaths Across America—we sponsored 5 wreaths ($75) for Mountain Home National Cemetery. In addition, other members personally sponsored 8 more wreaths, bring the total to at least 13 wreaths from MECMOAA and our members!

If you'd like to assist in laying wreaths, please report to Mountain Home National Cemetery NLT 0900 on Saturday, 19 December. There will not be formal ceremony as before, but volunteers are still needed to assist in laying wreaths. This is a simple yet impactful way to Never Stop Serving.

As of the date this newsletter was drafted, the local effort is just under halfway toward its goal; please consider giving it a boost.
